STATE PLANNING COMMISSION

Government of South Australia
Department for Housing and Urban Development

Part 1 - Rules of Interpretation

This Part sets out how the Planning and Design Code (the Code) implements the requirements of section 66 of the Planning, Development and Infrastructure Act 2016 (the Act), instructs the user on how the Code is to be read and applied to development assessed under the Act, and provides for other matters relevant to the interpretation and operation of the Code.

Introduction

Section 65 of the Act provides that there must be a Planning and Design Code and that the State Planning Commission (the Commission) is responsible for preparing and maintaining the Code as a statutory instrument under the Act. The Code, and any amendments to the Code, as published on the SA planning portal, have been adopted by the Minister.[1]

As provided by section 66 of the Act, the primary purpose of the Code is to set out a comprehensive set of policies, rules and classifications which may be selected and applied in the various parts of the State, through the operation of the Code and the SA planning database, for the purposes of development assessment and related matters within the State.[2]

The Code also provides for other matters envisaged by the Act, and regulations made under the Act.

Commencement and amendments

The commencement date for the Code was 1 July 2019.

The initial version of the Code applied to those parts of the State outside council areas under transitional arrangements put in place to provide for the staged commencement of development assessment under the new Act in place of the Development Act 1993[3].

The second version of the Code extends to regional areas of the State under the transitional arrangements.

The processes associated with initiating and making amendments to the Code are mainly set out in section 73 of the Act. One important feature is consultation under the Community Engagement Charter, and other consultation that may be required by the Commission, in connection with a particular amendment proposal.

An amendment to the Code does not have effect unless and until it is approved by the Minister. The approval process includes a report to the Minister about the processes undertaken in connection with developing the proposed amendment and certification as to the accuracy of information presented or provided to the Minister for the purposes of gaining approval.

Any amendments, once approved, are published on the SA planning portal. Electronic publication of an up-to-date version of the Code is a key feature of the scheme under the Act, and is supported by a number of related features and processes that facilitate the operation and application of the Code for the purposes of development assessment.[4]

Information about amendments to the Code is set out in Part 13 - Table of Amendments.

Major features of the Code

The Code Library

The Code incorporates a scheme that collates and organises its policies and rules for development classification and assessment into zones, subzones, overlays and general development policies. Together, these components of the Code form a library of policies (the "Code Library"). The policies that make up the library have no application in their own right, but apply depending on the class of development and spatial location under the scheme that is outlined in this Part.

Classification of development

The Code divides development into 3 categories of development depending on whether it is classified under the Code as:

(a) accepted development (see section 104(1) of the Act); and
(b) deemed-to-satisfy development (see section 105(a) of the Act); and
(c) restricted development (see section 108(1)(a) of the Act)[5].

All development is classified firstly by reference to its location and the zone, subzone and overlays that are applicable to the location. Classification tables applicable to each zone identify development as accepted development, deemed-to-satisfy development or restricted development.[6]

Accepted development

Each zone contains a table - Table 1 - which specifies classes of development which will be classified as 'accepted development' under section 104 of the Act in that zone if all of the corresponding criteria in the table are satisfied.

Accepted development does not require planning consent.

Deemed-to-satisfy development

Each zone contains a table - Table 2 - which specifies classes of development which will be classified as "deemed-to-satisfy development" under section 106 of the Act in that zone if all of the corresponding criteria in the table are satisfied, insofar as they are relevant to the nature of the particular development.

Section 106(2) of the Act specifies that if a relevant authority is satisfied that development is deemed-to-satisfy development except for 1 or more minor variations, the relevant authority must assess it as deemed-to-satisfy development.

Deemed-to-satisfy development must be granted planning consent subject to the requirements of section 106 of the Act and therefore does not require assessment against the policies and rules applicable to performance assessed development.

Restricted development

Each zone contains a table - Table 4 - which specifies classes of development which will be categorised as "impact assessed development" and classified as "restricted development" under section 108 of the Act, subject to any exclusions specified in the table.

The Commission is the relevant authority for restricted development.

All policies and rules relative to the spatial location of proposed restricted development, together with all general development policies, are applicable and may be determined by the Commission to be relevant for the purposes of a restricted development under section 110(10) of the Act (but the Commission is not bound by those provisions).

Performance assessed development

All development not classified as accepted, deemed-to-satisfy, restricted or impact assessed development will be categorised as code assessed development and classified as "performance assessed development" under sections 105(b) and 107 of the Act, and will be assessed on its merits against the Code as contemplated by section 107 of the Act.

Application of Policies to Performance Assessed Classes of Development

The Code applies policies to performance assessed development through an Applicable Policies for Performance Assessed Development Table relative to each zone - Table 3.

In particular, for each zone, Table 3 specifies the polices and rules that apply to classes of development within the zone, including by the application of policies within subzones and overlays (applies only in the area affected by the subzone/overlay), together with the relevant general development policies. Table 3 also contains rules for application of the policies , including rules relating to the application of Desired Outcome policies and Designated Performance Features.

The policies specified in Table 3 constitute the policies applicable to the particular class of development within the zone to the exclusion of all other policies within the Code, and no other policies are applicable to the assessment of the application.

In interpreting the policies specified in Table 3 the relevant authority may, in assessing an application, consider other similar code provisions (beyond those produced from Table 3) for contextual purposes only. Where policies, outside of those returned by Table 3, are considered (for contextual purposes to interpret the applicable policies) they cannot form the reasons as to whether consent should be granted (or refused) for an application.

Development that does not fall within one of the specified classes of development in Table 3 will be designated in the table as 'All Other Code Assessed Development'. To assess such development, all policies from the zone and subzone, and all policies in overlays that have application to the spatial location of the development, and all general development policies, apply for the purpose of assessment.

For the purposes of section 102 of the Act, the relevant authority must assess the development against the applicable policies specified by Table 3 that are relevant to the particular development. For the avoidance of doubt, the relevant authority may determine that one or more of the listed policies are not relevant to a particular development.

Determination of Classes of Development

The Classification and Procedural Matters tables in the Code list classes of development (in the left-hand column). Unless otherwise specified in another class of development in that table, the reference to a class of development includes a reference to a change in the use of the relevant land or building work (including construction of a new building, or alteration/addition of an existing building).

If a proposed development comprises more than one element or more than one class (or form) of development, each of the applicable listed classes of development is relevant. This means that:

(a) for the purposes of assessment - all applicable policies and criteria must be considered by the relevant authority for the purposes of section 102 of the Act; and
(b) for the purposes of procedural matters - any development that comprises more than one of the listed classes of development may trigger more than one relevant procedure.[7]

Subject to the preceding paragraph, if there are two or more classes of development listed in a particular table that relate to a proposed development, the class of development that most closely corresponds to the nature of the development (after considering the substance of the development) applies. This is subject to the need to make a practical and realistic assessment of proposed development, and to consider the proper construction of the relevant parts of the Code, in the event of any inconsistency between two classifications as they apply to proposed development.

Policies - Desired Outcomes and Performance Outcomes

Zone, subzone, overlay and general development policies are comprised of desired outcomes (DOs) and performance outcomes (POs). These are applicable to performance assessed development and to restricted development.

Desired outcomes

Desired outcome are policies designed to aid the interpretation of performance outcomes by setting a general policy agenda for a zone, subzone, overlay or general development policies module. Where a relevant authority is uncertain as to whether or how a performance outcome applies to a development, the desired outcome(s) may inform its consideration of the relevance and application of a performance outcome, or assist in assessing the merits of the development against the applicable performance outcomes collectively.

Performance outcomes

Performance outcomes are policies designed to facilitate assessment according to specified factors, including land use, site dimensions and land division, built form, character and hazard risk minimisation.

Designated performance features

In order to assist a relevant authority to interpret the performance outcomes, in some cases the policy includes a standard outcome which will generally meet the corresponding performance outcome (a designated performance feature or DPF). A DPF, including a Technical and Numeric Variation (TNV) or other numeric value which forms part of a DPF, provides a guide to a relevant authority as to what is generally considered to satisfy the corresponding performance outcome but does not need to necessarily be satisfied to meet the performance outcome, and does not derogate from the discretion to determine that the outcome is met in another way, or from the need to assess development on its merits against all relevant policies.

Technical and Numeric Variations

The Code has facilities that set or determine various technical and/or numeric requirements in relation to specified classes of development.[8]

Section 66(4) of the Act provides that the Code may include provisions that provide for the adaptation of the rules that apply in relation to a specified zone or subzone or as an overlay to provide for necessary and appropriate local variations in specified circumstances. The requirements specified or reflected in technical or numeric variations form part of the planning rules to apply to the assessment of development, as relevant, through the classification tables and other provisions that make reference to these matters in specified circumstances. In varying a particular policy, these specific provisions or policies may be spatially applied without the need for the Code to apply the specific policy through a separate zone, subzone or overlay.

One type of adaption of the rules is a variation of a technical or numeric requirement that would otherwise apply under a zone, subzone or overlay that applies to a particular location.[9] A technical or numeric variation of a technical or numeric requirement operates within parameters specified in the Code and is spatially applied through the operation of the Code and its interaction with the SA planning database.

Hierarchy of Policies/Modification of Provisions

If there is an inconsistency between provisions in the relevant policies for a particular development, and for the purpose of section 66(3)(b) of the Act, the following rules will apply to the extent of any inconsistency between policies:

(a) the provisions of an overlay will prevail over all other policies applying in the particular case; and
(b) a subzone policy will prevail over a zone policy or a general development policy; and
(c) a zone policy will prevail over a general development policy.

This hierarchy is represented by the following diagram.

Procedural Matters

The zones, subzones, overlays and general development policies may contain sections headed 'Procedural matters'. Material in these sections provide for various procedural and related matters under the Act and regulations[10], such as some exclusions from the requirement to notify certain applications for planning consent, and referrals to prescribed bodies.

Notification of applications for planning consent

A table headed 'Notification' in the section of a policy relating to procedural matters specifies classes of development to be assessed under section 107 of the Act which are excluded from the requirement to give notice of an application for planning consent under section 107(3) and (4).[11] The table may also specify cases where notice need not be given to members of the public by a notice placed on the relevant land under regulation 47(6)(a) of the Planning, Development and Infrastructure (General) Regulations 2017.

Interpretation of Notification Tables

Notification tables exclude the classes of development listed in Column A from notification provided that they do not fall within a corresponding exclusion prescribed in Column B.

Where a development or an element of a development falls within more than one class of development listed in Column A, it will be excluded from notification if it is excluded (in its entirety) under any of those classes of development. It need not be excluded under all applicable classes of development.

Where a development involves multiple performance assessed elements, all performance assessed elements will require notification (regardless of whether one or more elements are excluded in the applicable notification table) unless every performance assessed element of the application is excluded in the applicable notification table, in which case the application will not require notification.

Referrals

The Code also interacts with regulation 41 and Schedule 9 of the Planning, Development and Infrastructure (General) Regulations 2017 for the purposes of section 122 of the Act. Schedule 9 prescribes classes of development that must be referred to a body prescribed in Schedule 9.

'Referral' tables in various parts of the Code specify classes of development to which an item in the table in clause 3 of Schedule 9 applies, identified by reference to the prescribed referral body.[12]

A 'Referrals' table also identifies the purpose of a particular referral (that being a matter that is considered by the Commission under section 66(2)(e)(ii) of the Act as being appropriate to include in the Code).

In relation to development that is to be assessed under section 107 of the Act, if policies from a particular overlay are not listed within the 'Applicable Policies' in Table 3 for that class of development, any referral within that overlay will not apply to that class of development.

Other matters specified by the Code

Specified matters and areas identified under the Act and Regulations

Part 5 sets out areas and matters that are specified or identified for various matters under the Act or associated regulations.

Definitions of land use and land use classes

Part 7 sets out definitions of land use for the purposes of section 66(2)(c) of the Act.

Local heritage places

This part of the Planning and Design Code designates places as places of local heritage value for the purposes of section 67 of the Act. Local heritage places are also listed in the South Australian Heritage Register established under the Heritage Places Act 1993. However, as local heritage places are established under the Planning, Development and Infrastructure Act 2016, if there is any inconsistency between the Register and the Local Heritage Places listed in Part 11 of the Planning and Design Code, an entry in Part 11 of the Planning and Design Code will prevail to the extent of any inconsistency.

State heritage places

State heritage places listed in Part 11 are a point in time reference to places that are registered (or provisionally listed) as State Heritage Places under the Heritage Places Act 1993. As the Heritage Places Act 1993 operates separately to the Planning, Development and Infrastructure Act 2016 and the Planning and Design Code, reference to the Register established under the Heritage Places Act 1993 (the South Australian Heritage Register) will be made to determine if a State Heritage Place exists on land forming part of a development application and the extent to which it applies. If there is any inconsistency between the Register and the State Heritage Places listed in Part 11 of the Planning and Design Code, an entry in the Register will prevail to the extent of any inconsistency.

Regulated and significant trees

Part 10 makes declarations for the purposes of the definition of regulated tree(s) and the definition of significant tree(s) under the Act.

Australian Standards

1. Pursuant to section 71(e) of the Act and subject to subclause (2), the Minister may alter a DTS/DPF provision to reflect an update to a relevant standard published by Standards Australia.
2. In making an alteration under subclause (1), the Minister must:
   (a) publish or specify a new DTS/DPF provision or provisions that satisfy any requirements specified by the Chief Executive or Commission under sections 49 or 51 of the Act; and
   (b) ensure that the DTS/DPF provision or provisions will form part of the SA planning database; and
   (c) publish notice of the alteration on the SA planning portal.
3. An alteration under subclause (1) takes effect from the date specified in the notice of the alteration published on the SA planning portal.

Spatial Information and Electronic Databases and Files

The spatial boundaries of zones, subzones and overlays, as they apply in relation to the various parts of the State, are determined through the operation of the Code and may accessed through the SA planning database.

In particular, the Code spatially applies the zones, subzones and overlays to the various parts of the State. This application results in spatial layers that show the location of the zones, subzones and overlays and, accordingly, applies the policies, rules and other information that are relevant to any specific place within the State. This feature of the Code operates through data that is housed in multiple databases and electronic files. These databases and files interact to produce data that accurately shows the spatial application of the polices, rules and other relevant information within the Code, combining textual information with spatial information.

This electronic feature of the Code works in conjunction with the SA planning database under section 49 of the Act, so that the spatial boundaries of any zone, subzone or overlay, and accordingly relevant textual information, may be accessed and applied through the SA planning database.[13]

The Code and the SA planning database in turn operate in conjunction with the South Australian Property and Planning Atlas (SAPPA) and other related databases and systems and services. The data in SAPPA defines the spatial extent and boundaries of the zones, subzones and overlays established by the Code. This spatial data is developed, maintained, securely stored and delivered through information systems established and maintained by the Department. This functionality allows spatial data and textual data to be brought together in the SA planning database, and in the Code as published on the SA planning portal.

The status of the SA planning database is further supported by any standards established by the Commission under section 51 of the Act and, importantly, section 52 of the Act supports the electronic publication of statutory instruments, including the Code. A version of the Code, published on that part of the SA planning portal that states that instruments published on that part are certified by the Chief Executive of the Department under section 52(1) of the Act, is able to be presumed (in the absence of proof to the contrary) to be a complete and accurate record of the statutory instrument (as amended from time to time and as in force at a specified day).[14] In addition, any information produced on the SA planning database as to the application of planning policies, rules and information to a specified place within the State (as envisaged by section 49(1) of the Act) will be presumed, in the absence of proof to the contrary, to be accurate and correct (and may be relied on for the purposes of the Act).[15]

Furthermore, as part of the SA planning portal and in connection with the SA planning database, the online atlas under section 50 of the Act provides a search facility to search across the database that is relevant to the spatial application of the Code. The online atlas enables the viewing and searching of the spatial mapping feature of the Code, and enables viewing of the location of zones, subzones and overlays by reference to council areas. This feature may be viewed as replacing an aspect of the scheme under the Development Act 1993.

The official sources for planning spatial data under the Development Act 1993 are the various hard copy maps of a Development Plan for a council area. With the implementation of the SAPPA and Online Planning and Design Code Enquiry (OPD) application, pre-defined and printed maps are no longer relevant or required. Rather, the scheme under the Act provides for the electronic publication of the Code, facilities to identify the policies, rules and information that apply to any place in the State, and the authorisation and verification of an electronic version of the Code as in force at any particular time.

Cadastral Updates

The zones, subzones and overlays of the Code are aligned relative to the cadastral boundaries shown in the South Australian Property and Planning Atlas (SAPPA). In the majority of cases a zone, subzone or overlay boundary is directly aligned with cadastre, or is offset from cadastre by a defined criterion. In the case of roads the zone, subzone or overlay boundaries are often aligned with the centreline of that road.

When cadastral boundaries are are changed due to newly deposited plans, resurvey, or amendments by the Surveyor-General there are often boundaries that are, as a result, found to be incorrectly spatially located and are represented in SAPPA in a different geographic location.

Where the spatial application of the boundary of a zone, subzone or overlay is directly aligned or otherwise linked with the cadastre (being a parcel boundary or some other point or position within a parcel) and the cadastre is amended resulting in the movement of a cadastral boundary, the spatial application of the boundary of the zone, subzone or overlay will also move proportionate with the amended cadastre. This ensures that the intended spatial application of the boundary of the zone, subzone or overlay with the cadastre is maintained.

1. Pursuant to section 71(e) of the Act and subject to subclause (2), the Minister may alter the spatial boundary of a Zone, Subzone or Overlay to:
   (a) align the boundary to cadastre; or
   (b) offset the boundary from cadastre by a defined criterion;
   if the Minister is satisfied that the alteration will preserve or restore the intended spatial relationship between the cadastre and the boundary of the Zone, Subzone or Overlay.
2. In making an alteration under subclause (1), the Minister must:
   (a) publish or specify a new map or maps that satisfy any requirements specified by the Chief Executive or Commission under sections 49 or 51 of the Act; and
   (b) ensure that the map or maps will form part of the SA planning database; and
   (c) publish notice of the alteration on the SA planning portal.
3. An alteration under subclause (1) takes effect from the date specified in the notice of the alteration published on the SA planning portal.

Ministerial Determinations

1. Pursuant to section 71(e) of the Act and subject to subclause (2), the Minister may alter the spatial application of an overlay or alter a Concept Plan referred to in column 1 of the table set out at the end of this clause if the Minister is satisfied that the alteration is an update described in column 2 of the table.
2. In making an alteration under subclause (1), the Minister must:
   (a) publish or specify a new map or maps, or a new concept plan that satisfy any requirements specified by the Chief Executive or Commission under sections 49 or 51 of the Act; and
   (b) ensure that the map or maps or concept plan will form part of the SA planning database; and
   (c) publish notice of the alteration on the SA planning portal.
3. An alteration under subclause (1) takes effect from the date specified in the notice of the alteration published on the SA planning portal.

Interpretation

Application of Spatially Based Policies and Rules

Where a zone, subzone, overlay or technical and numeric variation (TNV) does not spatially apply to the whole of a site that is the subject of the development application, the spatially based rules of the zone (including assessment pathway exclusions), subzone, overlay or TNV are only applicable to the portion of the site to which the zone, subzone, overlay or TNV spatially covers. Reference to the South Australian Property and Planning Atlas of the SA planning database will be made to determine whether a zone, subzone, overlay or TNV is relevant to the site of the proposed development application.

Definitions and other rules of interpretation

A term used in the Code may have a meaning specifically assigned to that term by one of the following:

(a) the Planning, Development and Infrastructure Act 2016 (the Act);
(b) the Acts Interpretation Act 1915;
(c) the definitions in Parts 7 and 8 of the Code.

In the event a term has been assigned a meaning in more than one of the Code's parts (i.e., a zone, zubzone, overlay, or general development policy), the meaning contained in the part that sits highest in the hierarchy of policies described above will prevail.

A reference in the Code to an Act includes a reference to any regulations or instrument made under that Act, and where an Act, regulation or instrument has been amended or replaced, if the context permits, includes a reference to the amended or replaced Act, regulations or instrument.

A reference in the Code to a specific resource document or standard, means the latest version of the resource document or standard.

Unless otherwise indicated, a reference in the Code to a Part, section or table is a reference to a Part, section or table of the Code.

The Chief Executive of the Department of Planning, Transport and Infrastructure is responsible for establishing and maintaining an electronic database (the SA planning database) that produces, by gaining access to-
(a) the state planning policies; and
(b) the Planning Rules; and
(c) any relevant land management agreements; and
(d) other instruments and documents as the Chief Executive thinks fit, textual and spatial information that identifies the planning policies, rules and information that apply to specific places within the State under the Act. The SA planning database must be accessible on the SA planning portal.

A further explanation of aspects of these features is described in a later section of this Part.

Section 103(c) of the Act refers to a category of development called impact assessed development. Under section 108(1)(a) of the Act, the Code classifies various forms of impact assessed development as 'restricted development' for the purposes of assessment under Part 7 Division 2 Subdivision 4 of the Act.

Any development that does not fall into a category established under this part of the scheme (and that is not otherwise to be assessed as 'impact assessed development' under the Act), is development that is to be assessed on its merits under the Act and the Code.

This applies subject to provisions of the Act such as section 107(2)(a).

Part 6 of the Code sets out technical and/or numeric requirements and any relevant variations

11

Section 107(6) of the Act provides that the Code may exclude classes of development from the requirement to give notice of an application for planning consent to owners or occupiers of adjacent land, and to members of the public by notice placed on the relevant land.

12

Development that is within a class specified in a 'Referrals' table must be referred to the prescribed referral body pursuant to section 122 of the Act.

13

The zones, subzones and overlays may be viewed as part of the SA planning portal at: https://sappa.plan.sa.gov.au/

The SA planning database is not the Code itself, but is rather a database which gains access to the Code and identifies the planning policies, rules and information that apply to specific places within the State.

Table 3 - Applicable Policies for Performance Assessed Development

The following table identifies the policies that are applicable to the assessment of the identified Class of Development to the exclusion of all other policies within the Code. Policies referred to are Performance Outcome policies, and any associated Designated Performance Features. Relevant Desired Outcomes are not listed, but automatically apply in relation to a Performance Assessed Development. Where a development comprises more than one Class of Development the relevant policies will be taken to be the sum of the applicable policies for each Class of Development.

In the case of 'All Other Code Assessed Development', all policies from the zone subzone and overlays that have application to the spatial location of the development, and all general development policies, apply for the purpose of assessment.

Unless otherwise specified in another class of development, the reference to a class of development includes a reference to a change in the use of the relevant land or building work (including construction of a new building, or alteration/addition of an existing building).

Table 4 - Restricted Development Classification

The following table identifies Classes of Development that are classified as Restricted subject to any 'Exclusions'.

Class of Development	Exclusions
Shop	Any of the following: (a) shop that has a gross leasable floor area less than 1000m^2 (b) shop that is a restaurant.

Table 5 - Procedural Matters (PM) - Notification

The following table identifies, pursuant to section 107(6) of the Planning, Development and Infrastructure Act 2016, classes of performance assessed development that are excluded from notification. The table also identifies any exemptions to the placement of notices when notification is required.

Interpretation

Notification tables exclude the classes of development listed in Column A from notification provided that they do not fall within a corresponding exclusion prescribed in Column B.

Where a development or an element of a development falls within more than one class of development listed in Column A, it will be excluded from notification if it is excluded (in its entirety) under any of those classes of development. It need not be excluded under all applicable classes of development.

Where a development involves multiple performance assessed elements, all performance assessed elements will require notification (regardless of whether one or more elements are excluded in the applicable notification table) unless every performance assessed element of the application is excluded in the applicable notification table, in which case the application will not require notification.

A relevant authority may determine that a variation to 1 or more corresponding exclusions prescribed in Column B is minor in nature and does not require notification.

Class of Development (Column A)	Exceptions (Column B)

Assessment Provisions (AP)

Desired Outcome (DO)

Desired Outcome
DO 1	Impacts on people, property, infrastructure and the environment from high flood risk are minimised by retaining areas free from development, and minimising intensification where development has occurred.

Performance Outcomes (PO) and Deemed-to-Satisfy (DTS) Criteria / Designated Performance Feature (DPF)

Performance Outcome	Deemed-to-Satisfy Criteria / Designated Performance Feature
Land Division
PO 1.1 Land division is limited to areas where the consequences to buildings and safety are low and can be readily managed or overcome.	DTS/DPF 1.1 None are applicable.
Land Use
PO 2.1 Development sited and designed to minimise exposure of people and property to unacceptable flood risk.	DTS/DPF 2.1 None are applicable.
PO 2.2 Buildings housing vulnerable people, community services facilities, key infrastructure and emergency services are sited away from flood prone areas to enable uninterrupted operation of services and reduce likelihood of entrapment.	DTS/DPF 2.2 Child care facilities, educational facilities, retirement and supported accommodation, emergency services facilities, hospitals and prisons are not located within the Overlay area.

State Heritage Places

State heritage places listed in Part 11 are a point in time reference to places that are registered (or provisionally listed) as State Heritage Places under the Heritage Places Act 1993. As the Heritage Places Act 1993 operates separately to the Planning, Development and Infrastructure Act 2016 and the Planning and Design Code, reference to the Register established under the Heritage Places Act 1993 (the South Australian Heritage Register) will be made to determine if a State Heritage Place exists on land forming part of a development application and the extent to which it applies. If there is any inconsistency between the Register and the State Heritage Places listed in Part 11 of the Planning and Design Code, an entry in the Register will prevail to the extent of any inconsistency.

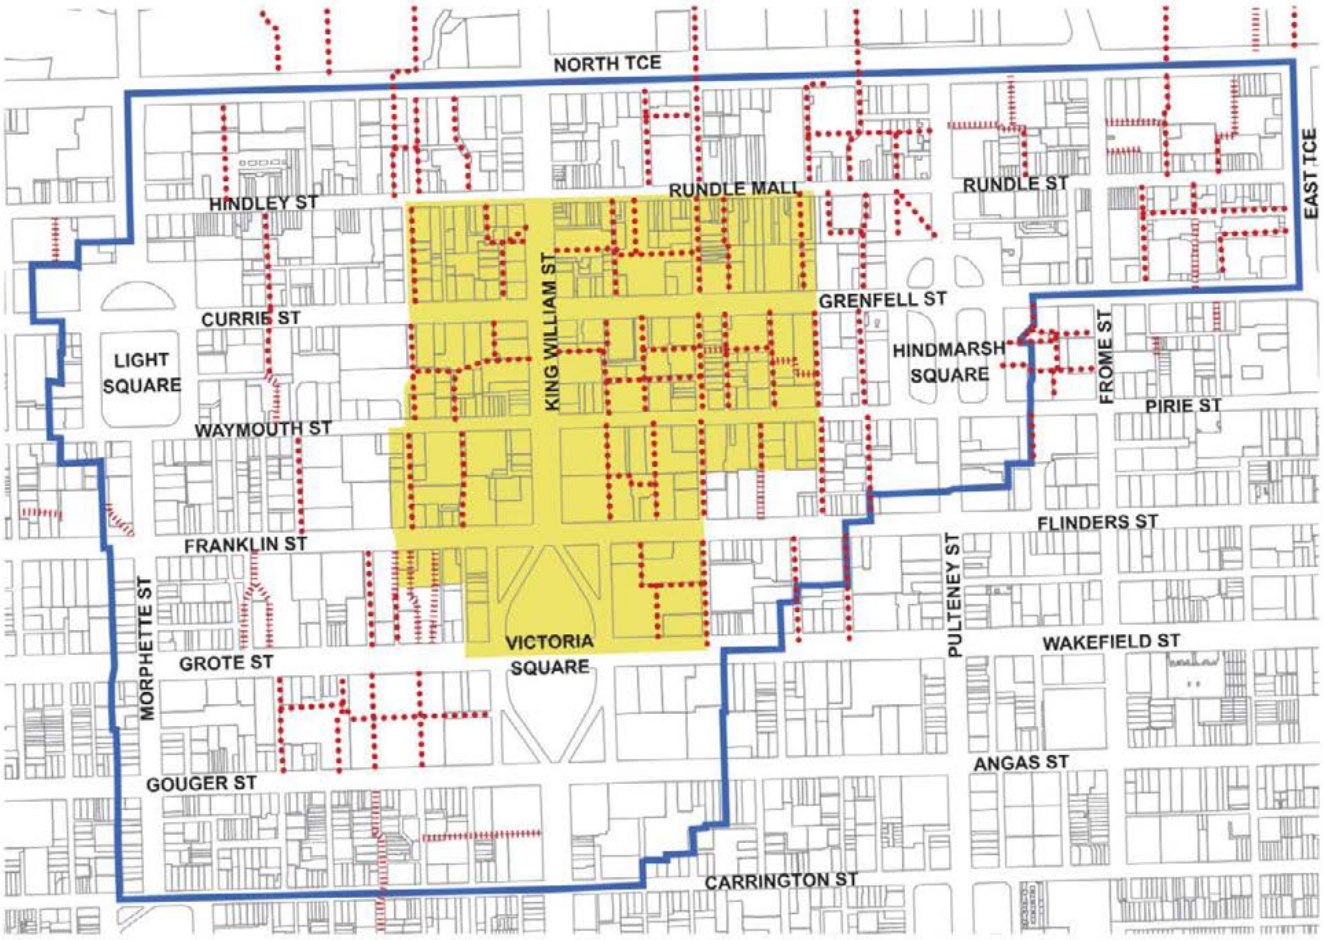
Concept Plan 79 Primary Pedestrian Area



Primary Pedestrian Area

- Vehicle access points for multi-level car parks located away from the primary street frontage where it conflicts with an Existing or Proposed Pedestrian Link.
- Development provides pedestrian shelter, access and through site links along an Existing or Proposed Pedestrian Link, as well as along main city streets.
- Development designed to minimise disruption to an Existing or Proposed Pedestrian Link, or main city streets.
- To minimise conflict with pedestrian and cyclist movement and/or activity on any major pedestrian thoroughfare, vehicular access points associated with multi-level and/or non-ancillary car parks are not located on frontages to North Terrace, East Terrace, King William Street, Rundle Street, Hindley Street, Currie Street, Waymouth Street, Victoria Square, or Gawler Place.

Core Pedestrian Area

- Multi-level, non-ancillary car parks / parking stations not located within the Primary Pedestrian Area
- To support a safe pedestrian focused environment, off-street parking in the Core Pedestrian Area only where:
  - it is ancillary to another activity carried out on the land;
  - it can be provided without loss of pedestrian amenity; and
  - it is not separately created on a strata title or community title basis (unless in association with another title held on the site).
